Feminine hygiene products history

Antimicrobial sanitary napkin appears to have been first commercially available from around 1895. It had their start with nurses using their wood pulp bandages to catch their menstrual flow. Antimicrobial napkin has a pad that was made from easily obtainable materials and inexpensive enough to throw away after use. Disposable sanitary napkin appeared in Germany as early as the 1880s but was unavailable to American women because of the Comstock Laws. One advertising company addressed this, by allowing women to place money into a box so that the woman would not have to speak to the clerk and take a box of pads from the counter by themselves. Several of the first non-woven sanitary napkin manufacturers were also manufacturers of bandages, which could give an indication of what these products were like.

Non-woven sanitary napkins with wings are one of our major feminine hygiene products.

Non-woven sanitary napkin which has a soft non-woven surface is antimicrobial, ultra thin and highly absorbent. It uses pure and natural fluffs to enhance absorbability. Besides, antimicrobial napkin containing antimicrobial will clear up the germs completely. And it is designed with wings flex to fit the natural curve of your panty. It is so delightful that our sanitary napkins (non-woven, herbal, wing-protection, panty shields, winged, antimicrobial, ultra thin sanitary pad, feminine and disposable series) can keep equal absorption to prevent side leakage.

We can supply with various of feminine hygiene products, such as: non-woven sanitary napkin, antimicrobial napkin, ultrathin sanitary pad, herbal sanitary napkin, winged sanitary napkin, cotton sanitary napkin, feminine sanitary napkin, wing-protection, panty shields, disposable sanitary napkin and so on.
